

CASE STUDY

API INTEGRATION TRANSLATION PROCESS AUTOMATION

The Challenge

1 platform

16
languages

This online social platform had a large and complex repository of their developer content. They needed to translate in 16 languages. Speed and simplicity were key factors of their desired translation and localization program. An API integration to ease project creation and file transfers was the best solution.

The Solution

API integration

The Result

10+
hours saved/drop

An automated API integration saved time on both ends of the process and reduced project management costs. The client is able to track project status as Argos is connected with their project management tool and makes updates directly into that tool. The system eliminates the need for email file transfers leaving it a more secure system.

What They Say
